And so we reach the we're an audio book from Issue C7, or one of ble tapes from earlier is-tapes and the stuff they pockets:

sew-on patches, deer mini zines, Offspring tapes, crochet, pressed flowers, wil-rabbits, difficult music, cob-corroded metal, tote bags and end of the B-Side, unless on the ENDless Cassette the few almost unplaya-sues. We fall in love with make us pack in our dung, bones, crinoids, Islay ghosts and whisky, low twigs, x-rays, origami webs, badges, stickers, now tea towels.

I give a talk about The zine Sonic Arts and BA Fine Art students and invite them all to get stuck in to some tapes we've assembled – eating, stretching, looping, magnetis-ing, cutting, drawing on, sticking to arms and otherwise getting to know this most magical of materials.

I smile at the title of The Real Life and Celestial Adventures of Tristan Tzara which is TA TA. When I live e a c h versation would end TA TA tarra tarra and then moving to Liver-pool for TA TA TARRA TARRA TA TA TARRA.

TATA No copies of The zine with 10 names have PDF versions, which pleases me. It's about getting them in your hands and shak-and imagining. Huge thanks to all those that bought the series. That's it, nothing else to add. Where next? My boxes of tapes sit in the studio next to boxes of 7" singles. I wonder ...

ing, rattling copies and this issue is the last in
