

WE ARE ALL (FOUR WORDS MEETS PARIS 1968)

Alison

We are all feeling
We want to work
We declare a tyranny
Your children are woken
Freedom is the compass point
The enemy is online
Concrete breeds tough weeds
What if we invented it
Only the truth exists
Commute work, commute, study
When examined, answer revolution
Tweeting in the streets
Cis-ter I love you
Our hope can become
The future will be electric anonymous Newton Park staff / hellanwell

We are all crazy
We participate, they leave
We want to dance
We will provide nothing
We declare a love
Your children are beautiful
Let us change ourselves
Let the people dance
Freedom is the future
Designing reality is hard
New ideas are great
The enemy is behind
The wall has ears
Students are naïve
Struggle against the climate
To hell with work
Live without winter bugs
Only the future exists
Litter in the streets
Our hope can develop
Coming soon: music, laughter
We are all free
Let the people speak
New ideas are welcome
Students are the future
Live without fear
What if we collaborate
We are all people
We want to unite
We declare a shakin'

Let us change conditions
New ideas are recycled
Struggle against the Man
Live without live withal
Let's not change change
Power to the animals
What if we continue
Onions, do not consume
Coming soon: fake news
We are all sick
We will do nothing
Freedom is the light
The enemy is here
Struggle against the WLAN
What if we give in
Commute, work, commute, pub
Fish, do not consume
The enemy is near
Live without self consciousness
Commute, work, commute, sleep
We want to retire
Your children are grown-up
Designing reality is abstract
The wall has fallen
Let's not change lunch
Only the evil exists
Down with young society
We are all microchipped
We participate, they laugh
Let the people drink
Freedom is the illusion
Students are just numbers
Power to the flour
What if we snack
When examined, answer AAAAHHHH!
Mirror, I love you
We want to go home
We will do nothing
Let us change jobs
Power to the porters
What if we say no
Tina? I love you
Concrete breeds more concrete
What if we think
Down with negative society
Your children are special
The wall is blank

A. Balkin

We are all propositions
We want to fight environmental racism
Let us change diapers
Designing reality is a neologism
The wall has risen again
To hell with Fascism
Live without fear
Concrete breeds carbon dioxide
When examined, answer nothing
Feast in the streets
The future will be ours.
Coming soon: The End of Seabed Mining

Beata (domestic service)

We are one of me
We want to enlighten
Let us change our limitations
The enemy is only another thought
Students are a collection of minds like each of us
Live without the tightness of the mind
Only the awareness exists

BORIS

Breathe, do not consume
We are all equal
We want to work
Your children are our future

Alison Brice

The future will 404
Future: four oh four

Fiona Campbell

We are all earth
We will hide nothing
Let us change together
Freedom is the fallacy
New ideas are novel
The enemy is us

To hell with Capitalism
Live without mass poverty
Neonicotinoid, do not consume
Love in the streets
Hedgehogs I love you
Our hope can transform

David Michael Clarke

We are all sensitive people with so much to give. (Marvin Gaye)
We participate, they procrastinate.

We want to achieve everything before we are thirty.
We will probably achieve nothing.
We declare a declaration.
Your children are probably marxist.
Let us change change itself.
Let the people decide after being properly educated.
Freedom is the goal, but it's hard to get there while you're still in chains.
Designing reality is really hard. You'll probably need some help from a friend.
New ideas are hard to come by.
The enemy is sugar.
The wall has integrated speakers and a bluetooth connection.
Students are downloading movies via the school's wireless network.
Struggle against the systematic use of steroids by cyclists.
To hell with cherry-picking and cake-eating.
Live without cherries, live without cake.
Let's not change, for change only leads to more change.
Concrete breeds urban sprawl.
Power to the Playstation.
What if we went for a walk?
Only the lonely exists.
Commute, work, commute, puke, permanent bulimic cultural vibration.
When examined, answer « whatever ».
Down with high society
hoodlums, do not consume
Chardonnay in the streets and say « I love you, darling » to strangers.
Our hope can be Hollywood

THE LABORATORY OF INSURRECTIONARY IMAGINATION

We are all Fucked (and/or censored)
We participate, they annihilate life with their suicide machines
We want to be everything
We declare a civil war or nothing
Your children are gonna grow up in hell if you continue business as usual
Let us change the way we are revolutionary
Let the people become sensitive and inhabit their worlds
Freedom is the way we hold each other
Designing reality is more important than all art
New ideas are never new, just a synthesis of the old
The enemy is our absence from the world and each other
The wall has been built inside you and outside you
Students are the sparks of so many rebellions, stars in the rebel constellation
Struggle against separation
To hell with the politicians, the managers, the chancellors, the bosses, the cops, the soldiers and especially the bankers!
Live without ego because its a fiction
ESCAPE the zoo of the art world, join the deserters.
Let's not change ourselves first and then the world, because there is no difference.
Concrete breeds the lie that you are separate from other forms of life
Power to the saboteurs
What if we decided to block the system tomorrow?
Only the territory exists
Commute, work, commute, log on, browse, msg, die permanent orgasmic rebellions are the best cultural vibration When examined, answer no comment – always!
Down with organised totality: society. Take back the territories.
Riot regularly, do not consume
